

A man in a blue suit is sitting on a light-colored armchair. He is wearing a white shirt, a white boutonniere, a gold watch, and a ring. He is looking towards the camera. The background is a blurred indoor setting with a window and another chair.

"Every Minute Matter's, If You Refuse To Be Average"

My ambition made me obsessed with the productive habits of the world's most successful people...

What habits, routines and mindsets do they have that's different from the average majority of people in any area of life and business?

My name is Terrell and I want to be completely transparent with you out the gate. Growing up, I had a bunch of insecurities of fitting in that could've landed me in prison or 6 feet under the ground following the people I perceived as "cool" in my projects of the South Bronx in NYC.

Escaping from that environment into college, presented a brand new set of challenges on it's own because I still had a street mentality. Success was like a distant cousin I never thought about. Then came the moment that turned my life around. Driving on the freeway with some buddies and I heard a motivational speaker man on the radio say "Everyone Suffers one of two pains, either the pain of discipline or the pain of regret!". The lightbulb came on and finally clicked because I never wanted to leave this earth with regret. Made me realize that life is about being productive which instantly changed my perspective.

Since then, I've been on a mission about equipping and training people to dramatically transform their level of productivity and results towards their personal, professional and business goals at the highest level, in less time and stress.

It's a blessing to be a highly respected author, popular certified speaker and international business coach passionate about ending the epidemic of struggling entrepreneurs (especially influencers) to live up to their true potential by thinking outside the box.

I'm on a crusade, creating a mass movement to influence and coach people across the country based on 10+ years' of business experience, thousands of hours in deep dive research, advisors and trainings on productivity and business strategy, high level seminars and interviews with the world's most successful people including ET The Hip Hop Preacher.

I also get my wealth of knowledge from a handful of personal millionaire mentors and testimonials with executive coaching clients.

FEATURED:

I'm a hardcore believer that you become the information you consume on a consistent basis just like you become overweight after consuming junk food over a consistent period of time.

So my mission is to influence the world to level up their productivity in life and business over a sustained period of time. Our brand is currently impacting entrepreneurs in over 29+ countries by providing free online content, paid online trainings, master classes, seminars and private coaching sessions.

It's all about realizing that obstacles are in your path for a reason. Look at those obstacles as an opportunity to be a better person and defeat bigger problems you'll face in the future.

Start breaking through that glass ceiling of limitation and begin having the perspective that when one window of opportunity closes, a door around the back opens up.

Only the people who stay focused and committed on their goals, strategize, plan and be productive consistently will be the top amongst their life, profession and business but to achieve that, you can't do the same things average people do.

Actually, I would suggest doing the exact opposite!
